

I can't believe that after Indiana has had such positive reactions to the "no call list" that you would want to lower the standards in any way. If you want to create a nation wide law, use Indiana's as a drafting tool.